West Tech offers runway help

A spokesman for West Area Vocational Training Center offered to provide the services of West Tech students and equipment to the Bellis Glade Atport Committee Thursday, June 25, for the construction of a paved and lighted east-west runway.

Kenneth Bowermeister said the project offers his students the opportunity to put their skills to work on a meaningful project. Bowermeister selfle helped to lift a bit of gloom from the commitee, which had been faced with a $30,000 funding problem. Proposed is a 50 by 3,700 foot runway, equipped with low intensity lights and a lighted windsock. Airport committee members are attempting to complete as much of the project as possible using private-rather than taxpayer-funds.

At the heart of the project is a $100,000 state grant. Added to that is a local contribution of $166,850 for labor, equipment, and cash donations.

Wagner said that he wanted the committee to find the additional money and that he did not want it coming from the city treasury.

Wagner said the airport would be officially closed July 20 when the first step in the construction of the runway—excavation of a key ditch—is started. The key ditch will run the length of the runway and be three feet wide, and nine feet deep.

Youngsters learn how to swim

As a native of Belle Glade, Cindy McKee knows just how dangerous the canals and drainage districts which criss-cross town can be to youngsters.

For the past eight years, she has devoted a portion of her summers to teaching local youngsters to swin.

If they should ever fall into a canal—or a home swimming pool-they would have at least a fighting chance of surviving.

Friday, June 28, Cindy McKee and her latest group of 25 young students celebrated the completion of a two week swimming course at the home of Donna Shalton on N. E. Ave H.

The graduatee earned their minnow status by being able to swim fully clothed.

Over the years, Ms. McKee has taught over 100 youngsters to swim, but her class this year was the largest. Students ranged in age from

The youngsters came from all over Belle Glade, attracted to the course mostly by word of mouth.

During the 'year, Cindy is a fourth grade teacher at Belle Glade Elementary School, so teaching youngsters to swim is aimost second nature to her. Her mother in law, Evelyn McKee, a former synchronized swimmer, started-the informal program, and Cindy took over eight years ago. Only six of this year's batch of student-swimmers knew how to swim when they started the cleas. Cindy had to start with the basics, including breathing control and working up to swimming fully clothed. It is training to relieve parental anxiety, particularly for those who have found a non-swimming youngster sinking into the deep end of the home pool.

Cindy McKee's swimming lessons have come to an end for another year. Those who completed the course include Jeff Brooker, Adriana Sanchez, Sheryl and Tracy Moss, Carmen and Papo Camacho, Brad and Rebecca Buckner, Mandy McMullen, Alias Morris, Robert Aubrey, Mark Collier.

Thieves raid trucks

Thieves brazenly plundered three tractor-trailers parked at Deem City Truck Stop early Tuesday morning. June 30, and then fled south on U.S. 27, Deputy Rick Radford said Tuesday.

Larry Corwin of Sarasota heard the rear of his trailer shift as if someone were welking around inside. Upon checking the trailer, he found six 80 pound hoxes of beet valued at 8900 missing.

Arriving on the scene, Radford found that someone had placed 20 cases of margerine, valued at $510, on the ground.

Unable to find the owner of the margarine, he leaded it into his cruiser and returned to Belle Glade and placed the margarine in the jail for safekeeping.

Later, Dwight Timma, 37, of Fort Payne, Als., called to claim the margarine

A third truck driver, Demnis Beck of Meirose, Fia, later reported that several cases of TV dinners had be stolen from his truck.

Radford add the thieves apparently sneak up behind parked trailers with bolt cutters and break in while the drivers are sleeping.

As the Fourth of July makes it way this way once again, the Pahokoe Chamber of Commerce has put to gether what is hope to be one of the best Fourth of July celebrations in the state and in the nation.

The Chamber is expecting a large crowd and has made plans to have something on hand for everyone.

The day will get underway with something for the small folks in the way of a children's fishing tournament and will end with an adult dance at the Pahokoe Elks Cilub at J. m. You can't say the Chamber has left a stone unturned when it comes to the activities it has on its agenda.

There also will be a variety of music for everyone from gospel to patriotic music...music for the young and the not so young...

So if you're in town this weekend, go on over and take part in the Third Annual Freedom Festival Celebration in Pahokoe at the Pahokoe Harbor.

Freedom Festival

It falls on the Independence Day Weekend and is called Freedom Festival. It's Pahokee's way of celebrating the good Freedom Festival 1981 begins this weekend (see list of events elsewhere in this issue) and is the third annual renewal of a very good idea.

Freedom Festival is an opportunity for all residents of the community to get together and for citizens from neighboring communities to visit and enjoy some neighborly fellowship.

Freedom Festival is also a homecoming event; a call to Pahokee's native sons who have struck off to make their mark temporarily— to their roots.

Most of all, Freedom Festival is acknowledgement of that day in 1776 when a group of upstart colonials declared that they weren't going to be ruled by any power on the other side of the Atlantic Ocean.

Ocean.

A merica has come far since that day 205 years ago. This country's freedom has constantly been imperiled and tested during that time. But somehow, it has always survived, prospered and gotten better.

Come on out to Pahokee's Freedom Pestival, and look around. You will see some of the folks who helped make this country great: people just like you.

of a man nunched over the tanks, learning units papers.

Though I hadn't seen him in 14 years, I immediately precognized him.

"David Dubin, welcome to the units," I said, walking into the room and extending my hand.

David Dubin stood, looked at me with just a trace of healtation and shook my hand.

"You don't recognize me, do you?" I asked."I'm Jim Jones, I was in Officer Candidate School with you 14 years 80."

"You don't recognize me, do you" I lasked. Junes, I was in Officer Caudidate School with you I years ago."

I could see that he still didn't recognize me. "Come on now, I'm the one who is suppose to have the bad memory," I said. 'Okay, maybe this will hel,' you back then I didn't wear glassees, had more halt, and was about 25 pounds lighter."

'Okay, it's starting to come back to me now," he said, as the cob webs began clearing from his memory. We talked about all of the things that had happened to us in the 14 years since we left the six torturous months that were OCS.
Finding someone from your OCS class is like discovering a long lost brother.

After OCS, both Dubin and I had gone on to Germany and then Vietnam, though with different units."
Dubin left the service, lived in Germany for a while, and played semi-pro soccer as a goalte, before moving back to Delaware.

Two years ago, he moved to Florida and began importing surgical equipment made in Germany.
But it wasn't until Sunday that we met again, and this time it was in the Army. Reserve.

"It's really a small world," I said. "Do your remember Bill Lubiln"

"Yeah, he was the guy with the huge head and the way hose." Dubin said.

"It's really a small world," I said. "Do you remember Bill Lublin?"
"Yeah, he was the guy with the huge head and the hawk nose," Dubin said.
"Right, that's him," I said. "About six years ago he called me at home when I was attending the University of South Florida in Tampe. Turned out the Army had sent him to the University of Tampa to get his masters. He was just across tows. He discovered I was in town through his mother. We had been exchanging Christmas cards for years."
Then we returned to the present and realized we both had to get back to work.
Yep, it's the same old Dubin, I thought. He'a a little more subdued now, not prone to cracking corny jokes anymore. He's got a bit of gray in his hadr and he is well on his way to growing some respectable winkles.

We shook hands and promised to talk more later. There were so many things that we hadn't talked about. But it's hard to condense i'd years into a few minutes. I wasn't even able to ask if he has children. Plus, I want to find out how an American ever came to play soccer in a German league and was good enough to get paid for it.

Speaking of soccer, I had the opportunity to see a Tampa Bay Rowdies game this weekend for the first Tampa Bay Howause same time.

Watch out baseball! I think this sport has a chance of catching on over here. There was lots of action and 20,000 loyal Rowdies fans were screaming at the coach and the officials just as they would in any other mounts.

American sport.

The Rowdies won the game 3-2 (which is a perfectly respectable baseball score), ran up and down the field constantly (as in basketball), and kicked goals like in tootball.

There is more contact than might be expected and the game is easy to follow. I believe soccer is more exciting viewed in person than on television, whereas the perfect medium for watching American pro football might be the tube.

Watch out was a state of the perfect of the state of the state

Watch out you striking baseball players. The American public might not put up with you shenanigans forever.

Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner said that when the current licenses were to expire in July he would tighten bond requirements for dealers in gricultural products to protect the Florida farmer. Conner said he planned to raise the maximum mount of bonds from $10,000 to $20,000, and crutinize very closely the amount of business done by dealer before letting him get by with a small bond which might be inadequate.

The Observer reported that the family farm was still haracteristic of American agriculture, but was becoming bigger, more mechanized and much hore expensive.

Harvin advised commissioners that he would be bringing the pre-application before them at their July 13 regular meeting.

The grant pre-application must be submitted prior to Aug. 1. Harvin said.

If the grant is approved, the federal government would provide approximately one-fifth of Capital Mortagage Company's cost of locating a mill in Belle Glade. Total cost is estimated at $5 million. Grant money would be used for land acquisition and purchase of Harvin said that the city faces a tight schedule for submittal of the pre-application and that two public hearings will have to be held.

Harvin said the plans to prepare the pre-application in-house and would not have to pay consultant's fees. Mayor Altman said that the steel min-mill proposal would be brought before the commission at its July 13 meeting, along with a proposal for an alcohol plant. Developers of the proposed alcohol plant are seeking an industrial revenue bond issue to help with the funding of the project.

A special religious, patriotic service will be held Sunday, July 5, at Everglades Presbytarian Church morning worship at 111 am. The service is in memory of the signing of the Declaration of Independence in 1776. The great American religious and patriotic hymns will be sung, said Dr. David T. Evans, pastor, These include "My Country Tis of Thee," "God of Our Fathers," and "Amirica the Beautiful."

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag will be followed by a singing of "My Country Tis of Thee."

The text of the Declaration of Independence will be read as will the biography of Declaration signer John Witherspoon, Witherspoon, who later became president of the College of New Jersey-later renamed Princton- was a Presbyterian minister and the only clergyman among the signers.

-Dr. Evans' sermon is entitled "Independence, Christiantly and You." His texts are Joshus 24:15b, "But as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord," and Romans 151, "Let everyone be subject to the governing authorities. For there is no authority except from God and those who exist have been instituted by God."

The 206th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence is an appropriate time to remanible our forefathers who sucficied so that we might have freedom, said Dr. Evans. "It is a good time to renew our dedication to the cause of liberty and to God, from whom come its bisesings."

The public is invited to attend and renew their dedication to maintain the priviledges of freedom for all people.

Mrs. Eva Mack, a city commissioner for the City of West Palm Beach and President of the PBC Sickle Ansemis Foundation also was in attendance. Mrs. Byrd, chairperson of the Fourth Annual Sickle Call Banquet for the Glades said the thesis for the conclave was "Strategies for 1981-82: Designing them and making them work." Martin Rainey, president of the FSSCF presided over the three day conference attended by health care professionals and community workers.

The conference schedule included workshops, a science seminar, board meetings, an awards banquet and a keynote address by Dr. Gerald V. Williams, Executive director of the Sickle-Call Anemia Foundation of New Orleans, La. scutive director or me and of New Orleans, La.

Mrs. Byrd said the grounderence was "bith mean-

Mrs. Byrd asid the scoulerence was "bith meaningful and successful".

"The conference was most informative and the enthusiastic cooperation among the dedicated delegates in attendance will enhance PSSCF's good to help find a cure for this disease that affects a substantial portion of the Black community", said Mrs. Byrd.

Mrs. Byrd added. "It it hoped that the enthusiasm generated by the delegates will be carried back to their various communities and the enthusiasm will be picked up by adults and children that have the disease and to the public to present public awareness programs." "FSSCF hopes public awareness programs will provide accurate answers to many of the questions that may arise as the public becomes more aware of how yittal sickle cell programs are". Byrd added.

Dr. Charles B, McIntosh, M.D. of Jacksonville also served as the keynote speaker for the annual awards banquet.

Mrs. Byrd said Dr. McIntosh is a past president of the FSSCF and is presently serving as chairman of the Scientific Advisory Committee of FSSCF.

At the banquet, Mrs. Byrd said, Palm Beach County Bickle Cell Foundation was honored as the most suc-cessful fund rasing chapter in the state.

Mrs. Byrd said persons who would like to get involv-ed with PEC Sickle Cell Chapter may contact her for information.

She said the El Dorado Civic Club is planning a public awarness program in fall of this year.

Also attending the conference were eight year old, Faith Thereas Martin, Palm Beach County Poster Child, Mrs. Lynn Mills of West Palm Beach and Mrs. Dorothy Glaza, president of the El Dorado Civic Club of Balls Glade.

What is your authority for meaning decisions? What is you authority for meaning decisions? What is you authority for decisions of each they rely on what is the most suitable for the occasion. This is what now ho is governed by situational ethics does.

The real problem with this is that we usually decide by where extremal pressures push us to decide. According to this, there are times when it would be right to stal. There is no such thing as absolute values.

Once this happens there is no law or authority in our lives. Taking this to the extreme, we can even justify murder. That, of course, as a society we have already done in the case of legalized abortanon on demand. There is no protection for the unborn baby.

So, we as a society need an authority for what is right authority is God's Word, the Bible. Here it is in black and white.

Now, someone says, a set of laws is 50 cold and indifferent. God's law is not cold and indifferent to the

Mrs. Eva Mack, a city commissioner for the City of West Palm Beach and President of the PBC Sickle Anemia Foundation also was in attendance.

Mrs. Byrd, chairperson of the Fourth Annual Sickle Cell Banquet for the Glades said the theme for the yon-clave was "Strategies for 1981-82. Designing them and making them work."

Martin Rainey, president of the FSSCF presided vover the three day conference attended by health care professionals and community workers.

The conference schedule included workshops, a science seminar, board meetings, an awards banquet and a keynote address by Dr. Geraid V. Williams, Executive director of the Sickle Cell Anemia Foundation of New Orleans, La.

Mrs. Byrd said the conference was "both meaningful and successful"

"The conference was most informative and the entusiastic cooperation among the dedicated delegates in attendance will enhance FSSCF 's goal to help find a cure for this disease that affects a substantial portion of the Black community", said Mrs. Byrd added, "It it hoped that the enthusiasm generated by the delegates will be carried back to their various communities and the enthusiasm will be picked up by adults and children that have the disease and to the public to present public awareness programs." "FSSCF hopes public awareness programs will provide accurate answers to many of the questions that may arise as the public becomes more aware of how youtal sickle cell programs are". Byrd addox, "It is the keynote speker for the annual awards banquet.

Cunningham said the residents feel a six-foot high fence is the only way to keep the children away from the ditch and away from a possible tragedy

"It took many tragedies along along State Road to get the pine trees removed from along the highwigh," said Cunningham. "We're trying to aviod a tragedy here, but we can't seem to do it," he added.

The residents have drawn up a petition which they plan to present to the city commission at its next regular meeting.

They also have plans to ttend the conservancy district meeting on July 14.

In a report filed by Burgholzer the ditch is about 14 feet wide. Burgholzer said he took pictures and specifica-tions of the ditch and the specifications will be com-

"They frequently play in my back yard where there is virtually no slope to the canal bank," said Cunn-

Residents want a fence placed along the ditch

Stirling Road residents stirred by steep ditch

Residents living along stillwell Road is one of many ditches in the area which are being stored to what the residents feel is which are being stored to their or grand capacity asked U.S. Rep. Dan Mica to helped them get a fence erected along aide a ditch running behind their homes. The residents got upset when the South Florida to helped them to contact which Rep Tom Conservancy District began digging out the ditch. The drainage ditch of Stillwell residents are asking these public officials to help get a fonce erected along side of the ditch. "They frequently play in my back yard where there is virtually no slope to the canal bank," said Cunn-

Cunningham said the residents feel a six-foot high fence is the only way to keep the children away from the ditch and away from a possible tragedy.

"It took many tragedies along along State Road to get the pine trees removed from along the highwigh," said Cunningham. "We're trying to aviod a tragedy here, but we can't seem to do it." he added.

The residents have drawn up a petition which they plan to present to the city commission at its next regular meeting.

They also have plans to attend the conservancy district meeting on July

In a report filed by Burgholzer the ditch is about 14 feet wide. Burgholzer said he took pictures and specifica-tions of the ditch and the tions of the ditch and the specifications will be com-
